Grand Tour is a new blog by Anacleto Pons. Some of you, either veterans of the internet or simply interested in the first large collections of on-line historical resources available in the world wide web probably know already Prof. Pons. He is the father of D'Aria: il fil d'Ariadna, one of the first internet collections of interest for historians (both in Spanish and Catalan), and listed in the VL:Spanish History section already for more than one decade.

Bon vent Anacleto!
